1. Source determined that, on 17 December 1953, the three gun sheds at the lake in the quartering area of the artillery brigade in Olympisches Dorf, Doberitz, were occupied as previously each by about 24 x 76-mm field guns and pertinent trucks. On 15 December, 5 trucks, each occupied by about 15 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets and towing 76-mm field guns left the quartering area of the artillery brigade toward the training area south of Hamburger Chaussee. [redacted] 25X1
 [redacted] Between 7 and 16 December, source determined that personnel of Unit Kavallov almost daily engaged in driving school practice [redacted] 25X1
 [redacted] Source did not observe any other training. On 16 December, the previous quarters of Unit Popof in the Till Eugenspiegel settlement were vacant. As source, on 15 December, observed 60 troops wearing black-bordered black epaulets leaving the Loewen Kaserne for the engineer training area northeast of the Till Eugenspiegel settlement which, so far, had been regularly used by Unit Popof, source concluded that this unit transferred to the Loewen Kaserne. Twelve pontoons, 2 boats on special trailers, as well as beams, logs and other engineer equipment were stored as previously in the aforementioned engineer training area. The previous quarters of Unit Popof in Till Eugenspiegel settlement were being reconditioned by German craftsmen. They were to be occupied by Russian officer families. 25X1
2. On 15 December, about 450 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets and equipped with 8 mortars, practice targets and carbines were seen leaving the installation for the training area south of Hamburger Chaussee. Training in the training area northeast of Olympisches Dorf intensified after 7 December. Small details were almost daily observed at training. On 9 December, about 75 troops engaged in small-scale simulated attacks, about 30 troops in field wire laying and about 50 troops in the construction of field fortifications. On 11 December, source observed two details, who received instruction on 2 x 82-mm mortars in this area. 25X1
3. In mid-December, source learned that, on orders of the Doberitz komendatura, Parkstrasse in Falkensee-Finkenkrug had to be vacated between 12 December 1953 and 3 January 1954. After that date, 54 Soviet officer families were scheduled to be quartered there. 25X1

9. On 17 December, building No 17 on Hansastrasse in the area of the former air force headquarters on Falkensee was occupied by 6 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets. Plumbers were seen working there. At about 4 p.m., [redacted] occupied by 2 officers and 2 BM wearing red-bordered black epaulets, left the area of the building at 10 Hansastrasse toward the town. Source expressed the belief that these troops belonged to an advance detail. Source stated that, due to efforts by the burgomaster of Falkensee, the buildings on either side of Kochstrasse probably would not be occupied and that, according to the population, owners of buildings in the area of the former air force headquarters which were to be reoccupied, would be expropriated. The fence around the installation of the former air force headquarters was being dismantled.²

10. In early December, there were recurrent rumors that Illmenstrasse in Dallgow would again put off limits to the German population, as this street consisted of buildings suitable for officer billets. Source further learned that apartments for additional 200 Soviet families were needed. A major inspected apartments in the north section of Dallgow. There were also rumors that Dallgow inhabitants, who vacated their apartments for the occupation forces would be given other apartments in Falkensee.²
